

RAP MENTOR: - STATUS AND ROLE

Following some interesting questions to the BSc office, and problems during Period 32 (May 2016) submission and since, it is probably worth making your status clear.

Registered Mentors for the BSc (Hons) in Applied Accounting are not employees or agents of Oxford Brookes University.

Students select their Mentor to guide them through their Research and Analysis Project; remembering that their Mentor is NOT their Tutor and must NOT teach the student.

The student engages their mentor on a consultancy basis. There is often a fee paid. OBU does not set or regulate such fees, this is a private arrangement between Mentors and Students. Mentors are recommended to know who their students are – full contact details.

It is suggested that Mentors and Students agree their terms of business, before starting the Mentoring process. All Mentors are recommended to draw up a contract that both the student and mentor will sign. This assures both parties that a service will be given and payment will be made.

NOTE:

OBU can only advise where there are disputes, we cannot impose solutions. Both sides of the mentoring activity should be working at a professional level at all times.
